I / ME / MYSELF /

I must first thank you for reading this far into this resume of mine. And while I do have experience [which includes a number of months on a cupcake food truck, a year long study trip in Sweden afer I graduated from high school early, and numerous other independent projects and revelations] I have decided not to digress too far here. I urge you to explore my behance page for a look at my work [click], give me a call, shoot over an email, or tweet me a picture of some cool shit.
